JORDAN RIVERA

VP OPERATIONS

Implementation, support and training run as one post-sale team.

Most recently Director of Operations at Tidewater Freight Systems, a 420-person transportation software company. I run implementation, support, and training as one post-sale team, and I brought an acquired company's people and customers onto one platform without losing them.

16 to 9
WEEKS TO GO LIVE, AFTER REBUILDING ONBOARDING.

95%
GROSS REVENUE RETENTION, UP FROM 89%.

$11.2M
OPERATING BUDGET, 64 PEOPLE.

97%
ACQUIRED CUSTOMERS KEPT THROUGH YEAR ONE.

01 / RUNNING THE POST-SALE TEAM

Implementation, support and training at Tidewater

IMPLEMENTATION

Faster go-lives

16 weeks to 9 weeks.

Rebuilt onboarding around three standard tiers with fixed scopes and go-live checklists.

SUPPORT

Faster answers

31 hours to 12 hours.

Cut average ticket resolution time with tiered routing and a searchable fix library.

COST

Lower cost to serve

Down 22%, FY2022 to FY2024.

Reduced cost to serve per customer while the customer base grew.

INTEGRATION

One platform after a deal

38 people, 120 customers, 7 months.

Moved an acquired company's team and customers onto one support platform and kept 97% of them.

02 / BUILDING TEAMS THAT LAST

Team growth and customer retention

RETENTION

Customers stay

89% to 95% in three years.

Paired each implementation lead with an account owner through the first renewal.

TEAM

Built from 6 to 23

140 customers onboarded.

Grew the implementation team at Kestrel Route Software and hired the first two managers from within.

QUALITY

Fewer defects

Go-live defects down 45%.

Wrote the standard implementation playbook every project now follows.

OPERATIONS

On time, every day

91% to 98.5% of shipments.

Raised on-time shipment rate across two distribution centers at Brightpine Distribution.

(704) 555-0142 | jordan.rivera@example.com | linkedin.com/in/jordan-rivera-example